ACADEMIC INFORMATION

Language requirements

Portuguese: No specific test is required but it's recommended knowledge in a basic level of Portuguese.

English: FEA-RP does not require any specific language proficiency test for exchange students. However, in case the incoming student intends to enroll in a course offered in English, the B1 level (according to the European language framework) is required. It's up to the home institution to decide the more appropriate way to ask for this proof from its students.

Language of Instruction

Portuguese.

Usually, FEA-RP/USP offers some undergraduate, and graduate courses taught in English, however, this offer depends on the availability of the responsible departments and their professors.

Special language courses for exchange students (taught in Portuguese)

FLC1469 - Introdução à Língua Portuguesa e Cultura Brasileira para intercambistas do campus da USP Ribeirão Preto (Introduction to Portuguese Language and Brazilian Culture for exchange students at the USP Ribeirão Preto campus) - Basic Level

FEA-RP International Relations Committee and International Office offer the Portuguese for Speakers of Other Languages course. It is free of charge and specially offered for incoming students (undergraduate and graduate students) who are enrolled in any of the existing exchange programs at the USP Ribeirão Preto Campus.

Goals:

The growing number of foreign students at USP reinforces the need for reception policies that underpin the internationalization process and facilitate the adaptation of exchange students. At the heart of the welcoming actions is the provision of language teaching/learning, which will enable the construction of identity in the receiving society. Thus, the objective of this course is to provide the learning of the basic level of Portuguese language for foreign exchange students on the campus of Ribeirão Preto, promoting intercultural awareness and fruitful living with the local community.
