Belgium & Brussels

Belgium is a kingdom situated in the heart of Europe, a federal state and a constitutional parliamentary monarchy. It was created in 1830 along the border between the Latin and Germanic countries, by uniting citizens belonging to different cultures under the same national flag.

It has three official languages spoken: Dutch (or Flemish) in Flanders (the north of the country), French in Wallonia (the south) and German in the « Eastern Cantons » near the German border. Some areas, like the Region of Brussels-Capital, have a bilingual status. Belgium is therefore at the crossroads of the European Union and its various cultures.

Belgium was one of the founding members of the European Union, so it was logical that Brussels should become the political and administrative centre of the Union. More than 1,100 international agencies (including NATO) are based or represented in Brussels, which plays host to over 150 embassies along with some 600 international press agencies.

Accommodation

EPHEC does not own student dormitories, halls of residence or flats. So you will need to find accommodation in the private sector: rented flats, sharing a room with families or other students. Previous exchange students from your institution might give you some useful hints, so it is always wise to refer to their former experience.

*Renting a student room or flat in Brussels will cost on average 350-400 € per month.
You might need to sign a contract and pay a 2 months deposit with your landlord.*

Before arrival – practical information

Before you leave for Belgium, check with your local Belgian embassy if you require any specific document.

By all means, don't forget your passport and bring a few passport-sized pictures which will be useful for various purposes, including a transport pass.

When you found an accommodation in Brussels, make sure you go (within the 8 days of your arrival) to the town hall of the district ("commune" in French) where you live to register you as an exchange student.

Make sure that you have sufficient insurance coverage for your stay in Brussels BEFORE your arrival.

- ➔ Students from EU/EEA-countries should bring their European Health Insurance card with them which can be obtained from their insurance company in their home country.
- ➔ Students from NON-EU/EEA countries have to show their insurance coverage already at the time of visa application

Ask your personal insurance company for details about coverage of medical treatment and have the E-111, E-128 (or equivalent) form established for a period covering your stay in Belgium.
